

NO NUKES! NO WARS!

MARCH BY THE UNITED NATIONS
RALLY IN CENTRAL PARK
SUNDAY, MAY 1, 2005

Sixty years ago the U.S. dropped atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, instantly killing and wounding hundreds of thousands of people and beginning the nuclear arms race. In May, world leaders, mayors and citizens from around the world will converge on the United Nations to decide the fate of the endangered Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT).

The nuclear weapons states, led by the U.S., are hypocritically accusing other nations of seeking nuclear arms while ignoring their own disarmament obligations. The Bush administration lied when it went to war in Iraq by claiming Saddam Hussein had "weapons of mass destruction."

The war in Iraq continues and U.S. threats against other nations are escalating. At the same time, the U.S. is modernizing its nuclear arsenal and expanding the role of nuclear weapons in its "national security" policy. Who will be next? Iran? North Korea? Syria?
